

Shambush! return this July with The Ultimate, Ultimate Kate Bush Experience for The Most Wuthering Heights Day Ever

Dust off your red dresses, grab a wig and get ready to unleash your inner Cathy via the medium of dance ... Shambush! are back with The Ultimate, Ultimate Kate Bush Experience in London, at Lambeth Country Show, on Saturday 16 July 2016.

Was it really only three years ago that interactive theatre company Shambush! successfully produced The Ultimate Kate Bush Experience as part of Brighton Fringe 2013, garnering international coverage, immense popularity and a 300-strong field full of Bush-a-likes along the way?

Yes. Yes it was... and much like Cathy herself, it's back Heathcliff – let them in-a-your window, eh?

After an online revival in late 2015 – which saw footage of the event go viral to inspire 18 (and growing) independent, global, copycat events, who are taking part in The Most Wuthering Heights Day Ever - Bush buffs Shambush! will mastermind the brand new Ultimate, Ultimate Kate Bush Experience; an event dedicated to the brilliance of Bush, delivered with their inimitable style and sense of humour.

Shambush! say: "Little did we know that when Shambush! set out, three years ago, to transform a Sussex park into the wiley windy moors, filled with Cathys, our event would spark this worldwide Kate Bush homage. We've been overwhelmed at the response to our original idea of recreating the Wuthering Heights Music Video en mass. Now we're in touch with people all over the world who want to do the same, under the umbrella of The Most Wuthering Heights Day Ever, and it's incredible. We're helping out in Melbourne, as well hosting The Ultimate, Ultimate Kate Bush Experience in London. This worldwide day of wuthering is pretty epic and mind-blowing! May all involved find and embrace their inner Bush this 16th July."

Taking place in London on July 16th at Lambeth Country Show, The Ultimate, Ultimate Kate Bush Experience will coincide with other Kate Bush-inspired events taking place across the globe, under the moniker The Most Wuthering Heights Day Ever; from Berlin to Montreal, Atlanta to Sydney. With plenty of ridiculous activities, seriously silly dancing and competitions throughout the day, all culminating in the largest attempt at a mass Wuthering Heights performance England has ever seen– your place in music history beckons.

Shambush!, meaning a shambolic ambush, create interactive, intimate and nonsensical theatre experiences for all. Building, stitching and sticking, from conception to production, Shambush! have shammed up events and projects, with walkabout, installations and immersive pieces, for 50 to 12000 people, at festivals (Latitude, Glastonbury), venues (Brighton Dome) and private commissions across the country; including a complete theme park experience in just two minutes to a full on fairground experience in some ladies toilets...
